How do I print to a specific printer in a lab?

In some of the computer labs, there are specific printers setup that you can print to directly.  In that case, you would not use CUCA_PRINT, but instead choose the 'T101' (or  'A208', etc) printer as appropriate.

Because there is no "hold-and-release" functionality on those lab printers, your print job(s) are released and your card balance debited immediately.

Unfortunately, the higher cost to operate our lab printers means that the per-impression cost is slightly more than our other printers.

Lab Printers:

- A205
- A208
- G101
- L110
- L264
- T101
- T103